THE COURTS.

GENERAL CASSINA'S PREDICAMENT. A DEFENDANT IN ONE CRIMINAL ACTION AND TWO

The case of General Nicolas Cassina, charged with abducting Emma Collins, was called yes-terday morning by Judge Murray at the Jefferson Market Pelice Court, but the defendant failed to appear. His counsel, Leo Schwab, asked for an adjournment because General Cassina was in the hands of the Sheriff, and could not be produced. In the afternoon the defendant appeared with ex-Mayor Hall. The girl was also present, having been taken from the House of Mercy. She was attired in a much plainer dress than when he was a streated. The gara of a score of many its when she was arrested. The gaze of a score of men sit-ting around the examination table completely broke her down, and she shed tears during the discussions of counsel. Her father and mother were also present, and tried to soothe her grief. Mr. Hall said that under an coursel. Her father and mother were also present, and tried to soothe her grief. Mr. Hall said that under an old rule of the King's Bench a person who was complainant in a criminal proceeding and at the same time brought a civil action for damages against the defend. In for the same offence, was not entitled to the same consideration as if the civil suit was not brought. He thought that while General Cassina was under duress in civil suits be could not testify with instice to himself in a criminal proceeding. Deputy Sheriff McIhargey testified that General Cassina was in his custody in default of $5,000 bail in two civil actions. Mr. Hall therefore asked for an adjournment until Monday, when hall would be secured. Judge Murray granted the request.

The two civil actions were brought by the girl and her father. Miss Collins claims $10,000 damages in a suit for breach of promise. In her complaint she told the story of her acquaintance with the defendant, as already published in The Thinnist. On April 10, in University-place, she asserted, the defendant said he was a Catholic, made a cross with his fingers, and swore that he was not married, but would marry her. The complaint also alleges that Cassina is a married unan, having a wife living in Madrid, Spain. Judge Shes granted an order of arrest, and fixed bail at $2,500. The other suit was brought by Patrick Collins for loss of services, claiming $10,000 damages. It is reported that the actions will not come to trial, as the whole matter will be compromised.

CROSSING THE OCEAN TO BE MARRIED. A SAD DISAPPOINTMENT AT THE END OF THE

Miss Georgiana Lobb, through her counsel, E. C. Ripley, has begun two suits against William John Fogg Hunsdon, in which the defendant has been arrested, and in default of $7,500 bail is now in the custody of the Sheriff. One suit is in the Supreme Court, and is for more than $4,000, alleged to have been obtained by fraud and deceit; the other suit is for $25,000 for alleged breach of promise of marriage, and is in the Court of Common Pleas, ball being fixed at $2,000.

The plaintiff's complant and affidavits, upon which The plaintiff's complant and affidavits, upon which Judges Daniels and Larremore issued orders of arrest, state that in 1873 the defendant, who had been some time in this country, and whose name was then Fogg the having recently changed it to Hunsdom), met the plaintiff, as English woman, and a daughter of the late Mayor of Southamnton, England, Joseph Lobb, at Chale, in the Isle of Wight. The plaintiff was then with the defendant's sister and mother. Acquaintance ripened into friendship, friendship into love, and they became engaged. About three years afterward the defendant induced the plaintiff to place word the defendant induced the plaintiff to place word the defendant induced the plaintiff to place with the second three weeks ago, and then refused to marry him. Hunsdon put her off on one plea and another until about three weeks ago, and then refused to marry her. She consulted her counsel, Mr. Ripley, who full detectives on Hunsdon's track. They reported that he has been a married man for five or six years, and is lying in Seventy-ninh-st, with his wife and two children. The plaintiff alleges that she is alone in this country, without relatives, and that Hunsdon has defrauded her out of every dollar she has in the world. frauded her out of every dollar she has in the world.

JUDGE DANIELS SETS ASIDE THE ORDER OF ARREST. Judge Daniels, a little after four o'clock yesterday, gave his decision in the suit of Miss Josephine E. Varrell against Wilfrid Montressor, or Ceell W. Carr, or Lord Ogilvy, that the affidavit of the plaintiff was not sufficient to sustain the arrest, and the defendant must be released. In the memorandum Judge Daniels says:

It has not been shown by any statement contained in the plaintiff's affidavit that the debt owing from the defendant to her was contracted or incurred by means of any false or fraudulent representations. By representations of that nature the plaintiff was induced to accept her debtor's notes, after the debt had been created, for an extension of the time of payment. But she does not state that any loss was imposed upon her by reason of that fact. The debtor seems to have been in the same pecuniary condition at the expiration of the extended credit as he had been at any time previously. She therefore lost nothing by reliance upon the false statements made and consequently was not entitled to an order of arrest. An order roust therefore be entered vacating the order of arrest and discharging the defendant, upon an stipulating not to sue for false imprisonment.

"Be decision came so late that no order could be entered last night in regular form, but late in the evening Montressor was released from Ludlow Street Jall, going away in company with his lawyer.

DISTRICT COURT MANAGEMENT.

THE RIGHT TO PLAY "DIPLOMACY." Samuel French and Thomas H. French have brought a suit to restrain Thomas Maguire and others from using either the play of "Diplomacy" or any other modification of Victorien Sardou's play in Baldwin's Theatre in San Francisco. The plaintiffs claim that 8. B. Bancroft bought of Victorien Sardou all his author's rights for English speaking communities in his author's rights for English speaking communities in his unpublished play; that Enneroft employed Saville and Boiton Rowe to translate and adapt the play to English audiences; that it was then rechristened "Diplomacy," and sold with all the rights obtained by Bancroft from Sardou to the plaintiffs for use in the United States. A preliminary injunction was obtained and served on Mr. Maguire two days before he went to Europe.

The case came up yesterday before Judge Daulels on a motion to make the injunction permanent. It was stated that Thomas H. French and Mr. Maguire met on board the Germanic as good friends, both being or a trip to Europe, and they expect to return about the same time. Arguments were made on both sides by A. J. Dittenheefer and C. W. Brooke, and Judge Daniels reserved his decision.

SELLING PRETENDED INFLUENCE. Application was made to Justice Duffy, at the Yorkville Police Court, on Saturday, for a warrant for the arrest of a man who is accused of money from applicants for places as policemen, upon representing that he had influence in the department. The warrant was not granted, however, because a man The warrant was not granted, however, because a man who witnessed the payment of the money refused to come to court. A summons for this witness was issued, but he still refused to appear. Monday the persons who applied for the warrant, whose names have been kept secret, again appeared before Justice Duffy. One of these men is an ex-Assemblyman, another is a detective of the Twenty-third Precinct, and the third is the man who paid $100 to be appointed a police officer. The Justice stated that he would grant an attachment for the stubborn witness, but the complainants, learning that Justice Duffy was going to take a vacation which would last several weeks, declined the attachment. It is supposed the complainants will take the case to another Court, probably before Justice Ingram, at the Tombs. Many persons are inclined to believe that case will never come up in Court, thinking that the plaintiff will either be refunded his money, or that he will receive the position promised him on the poince force.

THE TEGETMEYER CASE AGAIN. Marcella McCort, of No. 158 East Fortyseventh-st,, a woman of prepossessing appearance, was arrested yesterday on a charge of perjury. The comarrested yesterday on a charge of perjury. The complainant was Alfred Tegetmeyer, of No. 7 East Twenty-seventh-st., a wealthy commission merchant. The case has been before the courts before in a suit for divorce brought by Miss McCort against Mr. Tegetmeyer. She swore in her affidavit in that suit that she was married to him. The case was referred by Judge Lawrence to Ruins F. Andrews, who took considerable testimony, finding in favor of Mr. Tegetmeyer. Mr. Tegetmeyer admits having lived with the woman, but denies that he was ever married to her. He produced several witnesses to prove that during the evening in which she swore they were married, he was playing cards with Wilnesses. The woman was brought before Justice Emith yesterday, and was held in $1,500 bail to appear for examination.

FIGHTING IN A PIANO FACTORY.

August Kuntz, Eugene Vilausque, Herman Praces and Antonio Glechter, were arraigned before Jus-tice Smith, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, yesterday, charged with assaulting William Becker, of No. 532 West Thirty-fifth-st. The men were all employed in the piano factory of Diehlman & Funk, at No. 479 Bixth-ave. The proprietors recently considered it wise to make a contract with Becker for the tops of the pianos, and the wages of the men were reduced from $10 and $14 a week to $8 and $10. On Tuesday morning Becker appeared at the shop to take charge of the work, but the men would not recognize him. A disagreement arose, during which the men severely best Becker. They were held in $300 ball each.

THE RIGHT TO JURY TRIAL. George Morgan, convicted of petit larceny at the Court of Special Sessions, and John Bannister, convicted of assault and battery at the same court, apconvicted of assault and battery at the same court, applied to Judge Potter for their release on certiorari, on the ground, first, that they had not waived the right of trial by jury, and, second, could not waive that right, it being a constitutional one. Judge Potter has dismissed the application on the ground that by not demanding they waived the right, and the act providing for such waiver is constitutional. Thomas Kane obtained from Judge Daniels yesterday a writ of certiorari to raise the same question before him.

CIVIL NOTES. Annie Delmage has sued her husband, Fran-cis X. Delmage, for a limited divorce for alleged cruelty. They were married in April, 1874, and according to her statements he has treated her since June, 1877, most craelly. Judge Larremore in Common Pleas, Special Term, referred the case to Charles Rushton.

Judge Potter came down here to hold Supreme Court, Chambers, for the two last weeks of June. He made a great effort to dispose of each case as it came up. but failed to do what no judge has ever done. It stayed over till Tosaday 'ast to close up his business, but went home with a number of briefs for study in his vaca-tion. The C ambers business of this district seems air-gether too gest to allow any one judge to dispose of it promptly.

The contest over the superintendency of the Brooklyn arount Home has been ended by a decision of Judge Gilbert, who can a Jared Clark "- in the position and coclates that John A. Galvin was rightfully ap-pointed. Galvin was appointed by the D mocratic majority in the Brooklyn Board of Aldermen on March A, but this setion was reseinded on March of by the Republican and Independent members, and Janed Cark, who held the office, was reappointed. This action was said to be irregular, as it was taken after the president had declared the Board adjourned.

Wash agron, July 3 .- An order from the Headquarters of the Army, issued to-day, gives the following detail for Recruiting Service from October 1, 1878, to October 1, 1880; Colonel Cuvier Grover, 1st Cavairy, will relieve Colonel J. I. Gregg, 8th Cavalry, as Superintendent of the Mounted Recruiting Service, station at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri. Major James F. Wade. 9th Cavalry, will report in person to the Superintendent of the Mounted Recruiting Service as executive officer at the Jefferson Barracks depot. Colonel Nelson A Miles, §to Infantry, will relieve Colonel David S. Stanled St of the Mounted Recruiting Service as executive officer at the Jefferson Barracks depot. Colonel Nelson A.

Recently, at a social gathering, Bishop Harris was invited to sing. He declined, but told the following incident as illustrative of his talent in that line: During his journey through Palestine one evening, after he and Mr. Spencer, who occupied the tent with him, had gone to bed, the Bishop began humming a tune of the olden time called New-Duriam. Mr. Spencer Joined in, and the two began singing a verse of one of our familiar hymns. Before the verse was finished, a donkey just outside of the tent brayed as only a donkey in the East can bray. While the hills of Judea were sending back the echoes of this most extraordinary and untimely performance of the donkey, the Arab dragoman put his head inside the tent, and spologizing for his donkey, said: "Ha! you sing one tune he think he know."

you desire to get well, or if well, you would like to keep well, send postage stamp and get information; and if you like our thought, philosophy and practise, come to us add get rid of your sickness. There are at least 500,000 chronic invalids in the United States who might have good health by processes platin and simple, if they would adopt and follow them. What folly to disobey the laws of life and keep sick when Nature would show herself mighty to save, if invalids would only accept her guidance. It is no new faugled nonsense nor famal elem that we seek to induce the people to accept. It is the Divine philosophy—old as creation—liab to live as one ought brings health, and as one ought not, brings sickness. Come to our home and learn how to live. If sick, you will get well, if well, you will staw well. We can give the choicest references
